

Color Story | Fall Neutrals

Fall is one of the most colorful times of year, but just because it is fall doesn't mean your tablescapes have to be saturated with color. Sometimes going more neutral allows your centerpiece to pop. Here are a couple of tables that give a handsomely understated nod to fall. The lighter table design would look amazing with white pumpkins as the centerpiece, while the darker table offers a grounded look that would work beautifully with squash, pumpkins and gourds of all colors.
