

Art Museum Wedding

[rev_slider_vc alias="art-museum-wedding"]This spectacular event was held at the Crocker Art Museum in downtown Sacramento on a warm spring day. The courtyard was transformed into a classic event space using two structure tents (66'x50' and 98'x66') put together with custom created roof panels to accommodate for large oak trees in the center of the tent.

There were also smaller tents used by Elaine Bell Catering for their meal preparation. We worked closely with Kate at Kate Miller Events who coordinated the wedding to bring her vision to life. In order to achieve a completely uniform look, we set the tent on our leveling flooring system to even out the ground underneath. The floor was then covered in specialty beige carpet to match the color scheme for the wedding.

Along with the carpet, we ordered fabric in Ivory Shantung for the ceiling and wall drape. This material was installed by our crew and once completed gave the tent a luxurious and elegant esthetic.

The fabric was illuminated with gorgeous lighting from BP Productions and the mixture of chandeliers created a gorgeous ambience for this reception. The guests danced the night away on our All White Dance Floor which was enhanced once again with lighting from BP. We are thrilled with the final results of this event and had a wonderful time working with the other vendors on this project, we hope you enjoy the photos!
